

Gypsy George 4c j

Gypsy George had joined the circus. He loved the journeys to different towns, villages and countries. In January they will go to Egypt. George will help the juvenile gymnastics with their act. Then he will perform a magic show.

He spied the bulging jolly green giant with ginger hair eating fudge. The giant was generous and gave George a thick slab of fudge.

He loved the gymnasts jumping on stage energetically exaggerating every move for the audience to see.

He had tragically seen the midget dodging the sludge at the ridge of his landing pool and then falling in. George had suggested that the midget should jump over the edge of the pool's ledge but no one trusted his judgment. The midget was in jeopardy and an emergency doctor was there to ensure no negligence occurred
