The flower show

Hello. My name is Flo and I grow flowers- roses, daffodils and crocuses. I have grown a new yellow rose and will enter it in the flower show on Saturday. I don't know if anyone should see my rose before the show. Before I go to bed I will close both windows and hope it is safe. Before you know it will be morning and I will win the gold cup at the flower show. I know Tony will moan and groan when he does not win the gold cup.
